

5,000,000 Corns Lifted Right Off!

Try 2 Drops of Magic "Gets-It."

There's a wonderful difference between getting rid of a corn now and the way they used to try to get rid of it only four or five years ago. "Gets-It" has revolutionized corn history. It's the only corn remedy today that acts on the new principle, not only of shriveling up the corn, but of loosening the corn off so loose that you can lift it right off with your fingers. Put 2 drops of "Gets-It" on that corn or callus tonight. That's all. The corn is doomed sure as sunrise. No pain, or trouble, or soreness. You do away once and for all with toe-binding bandages, toe-eating silvers and irremovable whiff-nois. Try it—get surprised and lose a corn. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"See? Just 2 Drops of 'Gets-It' Now Tomorrow I'll Just Feel That Corn Right Off—and It's Gone!"

Sold in Bennington and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by W. L. Gokay, B. A. Quinlan.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S JOY

Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"I want other women to know what a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby in our home but I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and husband both urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a baby girl and do all my own house work."—Mrs. ALLIE E. TIMMONS, 216 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential and helpful.

WASHINGTON'S VISION

Strange Incident Told From Memory by James K. Atwood of Dover.

Editor of The Banner—I have thought that you would like to publish the enclosed vision which I have written from memory. I well remember hearing my father, John A. Atwood, read it to my mother in our sitting room at Bennington Falls in July, 1861. The vision was published in one of the Boston papers. I think it was the Boston Journal, as it was told by an old man to a reporter as they sat on one of the seats in Boston Common, July 4, 1861. The old man told the reporter that his father was a personal friend of General Washington and an officer in the Continental army. As Washington feared any mention of the vision would dishearten the army he kept it secret until after the war of the revolution came to a close. I have watched the progress of our nation and have noticed how truly the vision is being fulfilled. I have often wondered what was to bring about the last great war and if I should live to see the great world crisis through which we are now passing.

Very truly yours, James K. Atwood, West Dover, Vt., May 6, 1917.

The Vision.

It was during the midnight of freedom, during the winter of 1778, while General George Washington with his army of the faithful few, scantily clad and scantily fed, were in winter quarters at Valley Forge. One day the commander had some plans to consider and wishing to meditate in secret, gave strict orders that no one should be admitted to his room. As the man who was later to be known as the Father of his Country sat in deep thought he heard a step near the door. Raising his head the general observed a noble appearing woman dressed in black. Asked why she had intruded after he had given orders that he be not disturbed, the woman looked at him earnestly and said:

"Son of the republic, look and learn." Turning his eyes in the direction indicated by her pointing hand the general saw plainly mapped before him the continents of the world, North and South America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Misty clouds hung over the English colonies and North America and beneath them was heard the sound of battle and the cry of distress. Shortly the clouds and the fog disappeared from the Atlantic and the vision said that the American colonies were free. Washington then saw cities and villages springing up like magic, first along the Atlantic coast, then further west until they dotted the prairies like flowers in a garden. Again the fog and mist began to settle over the land and Washington heard the voices of hatred and dispute. The clouds thickened and with the increasing gloom came the sound of mighty cannonading, the cry of distress and sorrow among the people.

For the second time the clouds lifted and dispersed as before from the face of land and ocean and an angel appeared wearing a liberty cap and wreath which she took from her head and placed upon the American flag. Following the second conflict even greater improvements were revealed, including the highway across the Rocky mountains and along the Pacific coast.

Once more the clouds settled, first over Europe, then drifting rapidly over Asia and last enveloping the continents of North and South America. With the blotting out of the land and the sea the boom of cannon, the shriek of conflict and a great cry of distress from the people of the United States. The period of the last disturbance was brief, about half as long as that which depicted the conflict between the north and the south. When the clouds cleared for the last time the angel who had decorated the American flag with the liberty cap and wreath, proclaimed that the last war of our people was at an end. There was great rejoicing among the people of our beloved land and there was harmony among the inhabitants of all countries.

REGISTRATION PLANS

Boards Will Have Little Chance to Show Favoritism.

Washington, May 11.—To dispose of any fear that county and city registration boards will exercise favoritism in enrolling soldiers under the selective draft act, Provost Marshal Gen Crowder issued a statement last night, declaring such practices would be virtually impossible because of the explicit terms of which the act is drawn. He warned registration officials that favoritism easily could be detected and would be punished with heavy penalties.

"Every precaution," said the statement, "will be taken to make it certain that the registration will be conducted with exact justice. The law is specific and allows no latitude to the boards, either in the matter of registration or in the latter matter of exemption from service. In fact the law is self-executing. Every man within the age limits fixed by the selective service act must register, and the penalty of the law for evasion of registration will fall not only on the man who fails to appear, but on any member of a registration board who may be shown to be in collusion with the person who attempts to escape his duty."

"Further than this, the registration boards will never act as exemption boards except in certain specific cases such as where a young man who has registered shall claim to be employed in a federal, state or local office, and thereby does come within the exemption clause of the statute. In a case like this the facts must be entered officially and attested. So far as the other reasons for exemptions under the law are concerned, exemptions for men engaged in pursuits in which their work is more valuable at home than in the service, the authority will be with a board of higher jurisdiction. "The law provides the penalty of imprisonment with no alternative of a fine for any official or any registered man who shall make a false return or connive at such a practice. The safeguards against favoritism or evasion are ample."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Keeps Her Children In Perfect Health

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the Family Laxative for Many Years.

Mrs. Aug. Doellefeld of Carlisle, Ill., recently wrote to Dr. Caldwell, at Monticello, Ill., that she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in her home for a number of years, and would not be without it, as with it she has been able to keep her four children in perfect health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the bowels in an easy, natural way, and regulates the action of this most important function. Nearly all the sickness to which children are subject is traceable to bowel inaction, and a mild, dependable laxative, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. It is pleasant to the taste and children like it, and take it readily, while it is equally effective for adults.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure you get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

"The course of true love never does run smooth." "Well, it's a good thing. When a young man finds things running too smoothly he is apt to get bored and wander away."—Kansas City Journal.
